The CEM National Reference Laboratories (NRLs)

The list of the CEM National Reference Laboratories (NRLs)

The Centre of Epidemiology and Microbiology (CEM) Laboratories of the National Institute of Public Health (NIPH) in Prague are a complex of 25 national reference laboratories (NRL) and one non-reference laboratory. In December 2011, the CEM laboratories were successfully reaccredited and newly accredited as public health laboratories under No. 1206.4 (22 NRLs, 104 test methods) and as test laboratories under No. 8002 (26 laboratories, 121 test methods).

The CEM Laboratories were first accredited to ČSN EN ISO/IEC 17025 by the Czech Accreditation Institute in 2001. Since 2005, the CEM laboratories have also been accredited to ČSN EN ISO 15189.

Top management of the CEM Laboratories:
Head - MUDr. Martina Havlíčková, CSc.
Deputy Head - MUDr. Věra Melicherčíková, CSc.
Quality Manager - MUDr. Barbora Macková
Deputy Quality Manager - MUDr. Jana Kozáková
Metrologist - ing. Jan Urban, PhD.

NRC for healthcare associated infections (NRC-HAI)
NRL - The Czech National Collection of Type Cultures
NRL for Antibiotics
NRL for Disinfection and Sterilization
NRL for Diagnostics of Syphilis
NRL for Electron Microscopy Detection of Infectious Agents
NRL for E.coli and shigellae
NRL for Enteroviruses
NRL for Haemophilus Infections
NRL for Herpetic Viruses
NRL for Chlamydia
NRL for HIV/AIDS
NRL for Influenza
NRL for Leptospira
NRL on Lyme borreliosis
NRL for Measles, Mumps, Rubella, and Parvovirus B19
NRL for Meningococcal Infections
NRL for Mycobacteria
NRL for Pertussis and Diphtheria
NRL for Salmonella
NRL for Staphylococci
NRL for Streptococcal Infections

STÁTNÍ ZDRAVOTNÍ ÚSTAV

NRL for Toxoplasmosis
NRL for Vector Control
NRL for Viral Hepatitis